The Year in Review

Grounds for Complaints

The grounds for complaints before the Panel for the 2021-2022 fiscal year, including complaints carried over from previous years, were as follows:

- ◆ Ancestry including colour and race;
- ◆ Physical or mental disability and physical or mental disability in connection with aspects of employment;
- ◆ Criminal charges or criminal record;
- ◆ Duty to accommodate; and
- ◆ Systemic discrimination and harassment in the provision of a service.

Decisions of the Board of Adjudication are public documents. The decisions are available online at <http://www.yhrpa.ca/decisions>.

COVID-19

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, most case management conferences were moved to the online meeting platform Zoom or they were conducted in-person in accordance with government issued health regulations. Hearings were conducted in writing.

Financial Arrangements

YHRPA financial expenses are the responsibility of the Yukon Department of Justice (Finance Branch). Funding for each fiscal year is approved based on financial appropriations by the Yukon Legislative Assembly.

The budget estimation process is often challenging and uncertain because the caseload of the YHRPA is almost entirely dependent on the number of matters that are referred by the Human Rights Commission each year. In an effort to ensure that the YHRPA is on track with its budget estimate, budget discussions may be held throughout the year as necessary. When additional funding is required to carry out the responsibilities of the YHRPA, additional funding is requested through the supplementary appropriation process.
